U. S. Government
Washington, D. C. 20505

Attention: Mr. [REDACTED]

Gentlemen:

At the request of the U. S. Government, a meeting will be held at the Advanced Systems Development Laboratory, International Business Machines Corporation in Los Gatos on March 2, 1972. The representatives from the U. S. Government who will be attending this meeting are:

1. [REDACTED]
2. [REDACTED]
3. [REDACTED]

At this meeting IBM intends to disclose information to you relating to IBM's development efforts in Non-Coded Information.

This information is confidential and proprietary but will be disclosed to you for the purpose of enabling you to formulate better long-range plans because it has been determined to be in the national interest for IBM to make these disclosures. The U. S. Government agrees to hold all such information acquired at this meeting in trust and confidence for a period of three years from the date of disclosure and to limit dissemination of this information within the U. S. Government to its personnel who have a "need to know". During this three-year period, the U. S. Government agrees to treat this information in the same manner as it treats its own confidential and proprietary information. This restriction shall not apply to information previously known to the U. S. Government, rightfully acquired from third parties, independently developed, or subsequently publicly disclosed by IBM.
